BACKGROUND

In a time when decentralized exchanges generate over $1 billion in trading volume per month [1], the market has been captured by a few successful exchange platforms that traders are forced to use, congesting network traffic, increasing per site gas volume and traders often have to give-in to whatever price is available in a price pool. Exchange arbitrage opportunities are few as big exchanges often streamline their prices to keep arbitrage volumes down and swapping volumes high.

We are a new DEX that has no boundaries.

TDEX

TDEX TOKEN

IN SHORT

TradePower Dex token is our ERC-20 token. TDEX owners earn a share of the protocol fee whenever a transaction takes place on the TDEX exchange. We need to set up a sustainable way to run the TDEX exchange in a fully automated manner, with as little manual intervention as possible. This is true for financial intervention as well. The better we automate the financial structure of the exchange, the more decentralized it becomes.

In order to achieve this financial self-sufficiency of the exchange, TDEX ERC-20 token has been launched wherein a symbiotic relationship exists, the token supports the exchange and the exchange in turn generates fees that are injected into the token. There is also a staking app with 25% APY.

TDEX EXCHANGE

Highlights of the exchange and the team behind it

TradePower Dex is a protocol on the ethereum chain, eliminating the need for centralized exchanges. Here, you can exchange freely without the need for order books, buyers, or sellers. TDEX holders will receive dividends paid in TDEX by locking liquidity into TDEX vault. You will receive 0.1% of all protocol fees if you are a TDEX holder.

The team has voted to stay anonymous due to present day cryptocurrency regulations in most parts of North America. However, for the purpose of exchange listings and product partnerships, the team has voted to reveal their identity to the concerned party. A brief summary of our team member's previous project experience can be found on the website with pseudo names.

Why use TDEX over any other exchange?

We believe you should not only use our exchange, but also hold some of our tokens to maximize your leverage. A few of the many benefits of using TDEX exchange are:

- Hosted dashboard with investor tools and profit reports on one single screen.
- Access all DEX liquidity in one place.
- Avoid price slippage to maximize your buying token value
- Compare and swap instantly with a frictionless token swap experience
- Fees generated are injected back into the pool and shared with all TDEX token holders
- Cross chain swapping in the works, proposed for V2

Available Liquidity pools in TDEX Exchange

You may pool any ERC-20 token with another ERC-20 token. That said, always be sure which token you are trading by confirming the token contract address. Since anybody can create an ERC-20 token address and a token pool, it is very likely that scammers might use this to create false token pairs. Adding this one extra step will save you from the consequences of trading a phony token pair. This is the price for a decentralized exchange and being pro-active will certainly give you some peace of mind while trading on any decentralized exchange.
